Claims 1-16 are presented for examination.

The finality of the rejection of the last Office action is withdrawn so that a new rejection can be made.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over applicant's specification, page 22, lines 12-22.

Applicant's specification stated on page 22, lines 12-22 that various Citrus species of plants contain synephrine and related substances such as octopamine, hordenine, tyramine and N-methyltyramine. Clearly, the statement concludes that the instant compounds or ingredients are old and well-known in the art, thus the formulation of the compounds or ingredients into composition is routinely known in the art.

The instant invention differs from the cited reference in that the cited reference does not teach the specific amounts of the composition as disclosed in claims 2-6. However, the determination of an amount having optimum therapeutic index is well within the level of one having ordinary skill in the art, and the artisan would have been motivated to determine optimum amounts to get the maximum effect of the instant compounds.

Claims 1-16 are not allowed.
